DIRECTOR'S ORDER UNDER SECTION 157 OF THE FAIR TRADING ACT

TO

WALTER GLEN SWEENEY AND LUCAS DON SILLITO

AND ANY EMPLOYEE, REPRESENTATIVE, OR AGENT OF WALTER GLEN SWEENEY OR LUCAS DON SILLITO

ISSUE

In October of 2014, Alberta consumers hired contractor "Walter" to do flood restoration to their basement.

The consumers found the contractor on an advertisement found in the newspaper classified ads. The contractor was only identified by his first name of Walt which appeared in the ad. The scope of the work included tearing out the water damaged areas of the basement and re-constructing it. This included, breaking out small areas of concrete in the floor to install new teleposts, frame and drywall the walls, along with mudding and taping the drywall so it was ready for paint. The total amount of the contract was $24,500.00. Despite the consumer being given a contract by Walt, it was never signed by either party. The contract was agreed to verbally and the work commenced despite the contract not being signed.

The consumers met with Walt sometime in early August of 2014 (approx.) and work commenced in the first part of September of 2014 (approx.). Walt requested and received two prepayments from the consumer totalling $9,000.00.

Due to delays and quality concerns by the consumer, the relationship between the two parties deteriorated to the point where Walt stopped showing up to work on the project and eventually ceased all contact with the consumer sometime around the first week of December, 2014. As the consumer was never supplied with any contact information other than a cell phone number and a business card supplied by Walt, the consumer had no way to contact Walt other than a cell phone number. As such, the consumer was unable to cancel the contract and request a refund.

The scope of work was negotiated and agreed to at the consumers' daughter's residence where the work was to be done. Some negotiation of price took place at a local Tim Horton's location and was ultimately agreed to in person by the consumer upon being presented with a written quote/contract from Mr. Sweeney at the daughters' residence. Although the contract was not signed by either party, it was verbally agreed to and sealed with a hand shake between Walter Sweeney and the consumer at the consumer's daughter's residence.
